INTERMISSION

The Illinois State University Guitar Ensemble consists of both undergraduate and graduate guitar majors who explore a variety of classical guitar music while developing listening skills, musicianship, and cooperation. A performance at the Mid-America Guitar Ensemble Festival is an annual highlight for the group.

Fabio Giudice, born in Rome, studied Classical Guitar and obtained a diploma at the Conservatory of Santa Cecilia in Rome. His life has been dedicated to the study of plucked instruments and he acquired a diploma in Mandolin at the Conservatory of L'Aquila. He specializes in Liuto cantabile and attended specialized courses in ancient instruments. He is at present a gitar and mandolin soloist with many orchestras and has performed as a soloist throughout Europe, Asia, Australia, Canada and the U.S.

Dutch mandolinist Sebastiann de Grebber is a true ambassador of the virtuosic and original Italian mandolin repertoire of the 20th Century, whose interest also lies in modern music. By portraying the versatility of the mandolin, he wishes to inspire contemporary composers to write for the instrument in different formations. Currently, Sebastiaan is music education and mandolin teacher at the artEZ Conservatory in Zwolle.
